Casino Collectibles Association Partners with the Largest Resource for Identifying, Researching and Valuing Collectibles

WorthPoint® Partnership Provides a Huge Benefit for Serious Casino Memorabilia Collectors

LAS VEGAS (October 15, 2024) — The single biggest question collectors face is an age-old one— what is this worth? Casino memorabilia collectors are no different, but now they have two allies to help them answer that nagging question, the Casino Collectibles Association (CCA) and WorthPoint Corporation.

With a current roster of over a thousand members, the CCA has been helping collectors identify their casino chips and gaming artifacts, network with other collectors, and learn more about the history of gaming and casinos. For over 30 years the CCA has been a leader in the preservation of gaming history, and annually hosts the World's Largest Casino Memorabilia Show in Las Vegas. Over 350,000 casino chips from around the world are identified in the club's Chip Guide.

In 2014, this chip sold for $75,000.

With over 30,000 members, WorthPoint Corporation is the largest online resource for researching, valuing, and preserving antiques, art, and collectibles. They provide subscriber access to more than 840 million historical prices and 2 billion images of antiques, art, and collectibles sold at auction. They provide a steady stream of new data and quality information to help improve pricing transparency between buyers and sellers.

For the serious collectors who want to research many items, including casino memorabilia, the partnership between the CCA and WorthPoint is tremendous benefit. In effect, they get a two-for-one deal. CCA members receive a discounted WorthPoint annual subscription price, with savings greater than the annual cost of a CCA club membership. Details on how to access the special partnership arrangement can be found on the CCA website at <https://www.ccgcc.com/membership/worthpoint.aspx>
